Virtual webinars & trainings

One can never learn too much! We offer a series of virtual seminars that follow the career path of a researcher. The trainers are experienced researchers in the area and/or career advisors. They are all members of EURAXESS network and mentors in our EURAXESS Mentoring program. All trainers provided their short bio, contacts and are available to consult you, answer your questions or comment your exercises. Access for free and learn more about soft skills, project management and other competencies that can help you boosting your research career.
